"Leading from the Sidelines"
How being different is your greatest strength

with Gary Chandler

Director, People Operations, Google Japan

Tuesday, June 27th 7:00pm – 9:00pm

at Restaurant Milieu in Higashi-Azabu

Gary is Director of People Operations at Google Japan and Head of HR for the Japan Global Business Organization. He is a passionate advocate of innovating in the workplace by leveraging technology and challenging the accepted ways.

Gary attended the University of Manchester, England, majoring in European Languages before heading to Japan in 1993. His involvement in Human Resources began as a Manager for Encyclopedia Britannica in Japan. In 2000, he joined the in-house HR consultancy firm, Resource Solutions, where he was eventually responsible for all recruitment at Goldman Sachs Japan and later Asia.

In 2004, Gary joined Goldman Sachs as a Vice President. His primary focus was on talent development and people risk management across the non-revenue businesses. In 2012, he was appointed Managing Director and Head of Human Capital Management for Japan, and was invited to join the Japan Executive Committee.

Gary is a Trustee for the British School in Tokyo and is the Chair of the sub-committee for People and Communications. He's a regular runner and would-be pianist. Gary lives in Shibuya with his wife Mami and their daughter, Anzu.
