So much is being discussed about “global citizenship”, but what does it really mean?
What skills should you stretch further to become a global citizen and leader?

It is with great excitement that we have as presenters “true global citizens” from premier international organizations as well as from the House of Councillors in the Diet. These leaders will share their career journeys, as well as the lessons they learned along the way in the public international finance domain.

Take advantage of this opportunity to hear their stories and leave with a heightened sense of clarity for your own journey.
