

"Connecting the World with Twenty Yen"

with our guest speaker,

Masa Kogure,

Founder and Executive Director, TABLE FOR TWO International

Monday April 22, 2013 from 7:00pm – 9:30pm

(Doors open at 7:00, Speaker starts at 7:30)

This event will be held at the offices of Bloomberg in Otemachi
(map link at bottom of flyer)

Masa Kogure is the founder of TABLE FOR TWO International and the author of "Connecting the World With Twenty Yen," a hands-on guide to social entrepreneurship in Japan and globally.

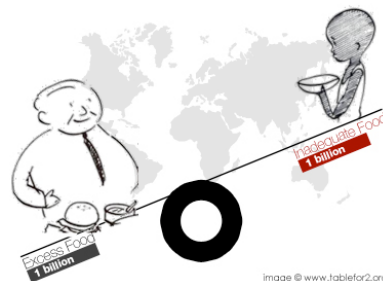

He received a Bachelor's in Engineering from Waseda University in Tokyo, Japan and a Masters of Engineering from Swinburne University of Technology in Melbourne, Australia. Prior to founding TFT, Masa worked for McKinsey & Company and Shochiku.

Join us to hear what inspired Masa to make such a career change and how he is using a host of marketing, finance and other business skills from the private sector to effectively build a fast-growing NPO.

What is TABLE FOR TWO?

In our world of almost 7 billion, 1 billion suffer from hunger and malnutrition, while an equal number face obesity, diabetes, and other health issues related to "overnutrition." TABLE FOR TWO (TFT) rights this imbalance by simultaneously addressing these two opposing problems with a simple meal. In effect, TFT seeks to transfer our excess calories to children in need.

Our Mission: To address Global Food Imbalance
